

Parenting Resources

---

This page contains links that might be helpful to parents and/or guardians. Click on a link below to go to that web site.

ABC's of Parenting (www.parenthood.com/links.html)

Articles on a variety of parenting and family issues, as well as a web directory devoted exclusively to parents and parents-to-be.

Alcohol, Other Drugs, and College: A Parent's Guide

(www.edu.org/hec/pubs/parents.html)

This flyer is targeted towards helping parents through concerns about the drug and alcohol scene at college campuses their children are considering.

Common Sense Parenting (www.parenting.org)

Sponsored by Girls and Boys Town, this site answers your questions about parenting and has resources for better parenting. It has information for all ages of children from birth to young adult.

Family Education (www.familyeducation.com)

This large site has information on all kinds of subjects that might be helpful for parents. You can do a site search or just browse through different pages.

Full Armor Parenting (www.fullarmor.org)

Christian organization offering family-building and faith-building newsletters

National Center for Fathering (www.fathers.com)

The National Center for Fathering conducts research on fathers and fathering. It also develops practical resources for dads. The site contains tips, training, chats, links, free subscriptions, and more.

National Foster Parent Association (www.nfpainc.org)

The National Foster Parent Association is a non-profit agency striving to support foster parents and to be a strong voice on behalf of all children.

National Parenting Center (www.tnpc.com)

This site provides parents with information on raising children. It has information and articles ranging from pregnancy through adolescence.

National PTA (www.pta.org)

This is the official web site of the National PTA. Information about conventions, program areas, bulletin boards, membership, parenting resources and tips, as well as having many helpful links are located on this site.

Parent Link (www.self-esteem-nase.org/parentlink)

This is the National Association for Self-Esteem's Parent-to-Parent Network web page. It provides information on raising personally and socially responsible kids. Check here for information and links.

Parenting Magazine (www.parenting.com)

Website for Parenting Magazine that offers articles, tips, and chats on all aspects of pregnancy and raising a child.

Parent Soup (www.parent.soup.com)

Parent Soup is for just about any mother. There is a message board. All sorts of issues are covered to help you when dealing with your teen.

Parenting With Dignity (www.parentingwithdignity.com)

This site is founded by the Drew Bledsoe Foundation for Effective Parenting. It is designed to help parents create an encouraging and loving home for their children. It offers a video curriculum to enhance effective parenting.

Positive Discipline (www.positivediscipline.com)

Visit this site for information on ways to use positive discipline with your child.

Positive Parenting (www.positiveparenting.com)

This site offers practical parenting tools that can bring long term change to families that want more cooperation and better communication with their children

Whole Family (www.wholefamily.com)

Information and solace from psychologists on just about every emotional issue from divorce to nasty cliques. Information is available for all ages of children.